LEGISLATURE
ADJOURNMENT
IS POSTPONED

HARRISBURG (AP)—A new hassle on whether the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority should be increased by 100 million dollars clouded today the final adjournment prospects for the 1957 Legislature.

A decision will be made Monday.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House Republican floor leader, said the final gavel would fall either Tuesday or Wednesday, explaining:

"If the House State Government Committee approves the GSA bill on Monday, then we will adjourn on Wednesday since it will take three days to pass the bill. If not, it will be a Tuesday adjournment."

May Push Action
Chairman Marvin V. Keller (D-Bucks) said the measure does not have "too much of a future" but there were strong Republican pressures to send the Senate-approved measure to the floor.

It would hike the GSA borrowing capacity to 530 million dollars. Of the additional 100 million, $33,700,000 would go toward New work, including a new state office building in Harrisburg and renovation projects at state teachers colleges.

The remaining funds would help finance projects authorized by the 1955 Legislature. In 1956, the lawmakers called for 160 million dollars in projects but provided for a boost in the borrowing capacity of only 100 million.

The House and Senate recessed last night, failing to meet the original June 15 final adjournment deadline set by the Senate last month.

Other Action
Appropriations remained the single biggest subject on which an agreement must be reached. A joint House-Senate conference committee called a meeting for tomorrow afternoon to tackle the huge $1,120,000,000 General Appropriations bill.

An agreement on state aid to schools removed one obstacle to adjournment.

The Senate tacked on an added half million dollars for school subsidies to raise the total to $134 million that school districts would receive in the next two years to make up for a $200-a-year pay boost voted in 1956.

Chairman Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill) of the Senate Education Committee predicted passage of the measure on Monday.

The newest version of the school subsidy bill would:

- 1. Increase the maximum subsidy per teaching unit from $5,100 to $5,300 for the 1956-57 school year and to $5,800 for 1957-58. (The House version would put the 1957-58 figure at $5,650).

MINER KILLED IN EXPLOSION

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. — One coal miner was killed and four others injured in an explosion which rocked the Glen Alden Corp.'s Loomis Colliery near this northeastern Pennsylvania anthracite center.

Dead in the blast yesterday was Leonard Wojtas, 40, of nearby Nanticoke. Trapped in the mine, he was dead when a rescue crew reached the spot after 3 1/2 hours of frantic digging. His body was partly buried by debris and was badly burned.

The injured, taken to Nanticoke Hospital, were Gordon Reese, 56; Andrew Cannon Jr., 35; Frank Guzowski, 40; all of Nanticoke; and John Shirkach, 44, of Nanticoke, another neighboring community.

Glen Alden officials said the explosion may have been caused by a delayed dynamite charge or by an accumulation of gas. There had been blasting operations in two adjacent chambers of the mine just before the fatal explosion. The four survivors were rescued immediately after the blast.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told Congress Friday a tax cut this year is "absolutely out of the question," and said it was "perfectly idle" to speculate on prospects for 1958.

Until government income and spending is adjusted to provide a Treasury surplus for the foreseeable future, Humphrey indicated that he foresaw no prospect of tax reduction before 1959.

Humphrey, soon to step out of the administration, presented his fiscal views to a Senate-House Economic subcommittee.

POCONO MANOR, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Leader Friday asked the Pennsylvania Motor Federation to "spread the gospel" of good driving habits in order to help reduce traffic fatalities.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Final arguments on the legality of a U.S. decision to let Japanese courts try GI William S. Girard have been submitted to Federal District Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy.

His ruling is expected late next week.

Girard, an Army specialist E.C., is accused of fatally wounding a Japanese woman who was scavenging for scrap metal in an area used by the Army in Japan.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The Army's ouster of provisional President Daniel Fignole has brought sullen protests from the street crowds he championed.

But thus far these groups, made up of workers from the capital's poorest districts, have refrained from violence in the face of the tight rein placed on Port Au Prince by the military junta that ousted Fignole out of office and into exile yesterday.

WESTERN STYLE
SQUARE DANCE
HIGH FALUTIN'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Western style square dancing has gone high falutin', podner.

The western style devotees are the purists of the trade, seeking to do away with some of the raucousness associated with old time square dancing.

They have deserted barns and straw floors for the ballrooms to whirl around in expensive squaw dresses and western style clothing.

For The Fun Of It

Some 12,000 western style dancers from the United States, Mexico, Alaska and Canada flocked to St. Louis for the 6th annual National Square Dance Convention.

They'd hurry over to sprawling Kiel Auditorium in the mid-morning and "box the flea" or "box the gnat" late into the night.

Once in a while you could find a couple sitting one out, but mainly they came to dance. These people aren't on expense accounts. They hold no contests and give away no gold cups. They came just for the fun of dancing.

Blue Jeans Out

Blue jeans are out for the upper crust in the square dancing field. The atmosphere lacks the fiddle-playing and fervent shouting often found in country style square dancing.

In case you are curious, "box the flea" means to link hands left and reverse direction while "box the gnat" means right hands joined and turn around.

At the three-day convention, which ends today, discussion groups and panels came forth with ideas to improve the dances. The convention was on an almost scientific level—that's how serious the dancers are about it.

30 Million Fans

Orville Essman of St. Louis, the square dance chairman, is an expert caller and overflows with knowledge of the western style. Essman estimated 30 million Americans—mostly middle age persons—go in for western style dancing.

"People who have two left feet won't dare step out on a public dance floor but they have no hesitation about square dancing," he said.

FIRST SWEET CHERRIES ON MARKET TODAY

Sweet cherries made their promised appearance at the Farmers' Market this morning, but the supply was light and sold quickly at 40 to 45 cents a box.

Promising increased quantities next Saturday, market attendants noted however that "the sweet cherry crop will be lighter than usual this year." They held that cold weather had frozen out many of the sweet cherries during the spring.

Strawberries were "probably making their last appearance" at the mart this morning with the price generally around 45 cents a box. They ranged from large and luscious appearing berries to some smaller "end of the season" offerings. Nearly all of the farmers were of the opinion that they would not have any strawberries to offer next week, although a few indicated there is a possibility a few boxes may still be available.

New Potatoes In Two Weeks

Apples from last season's harvest were still available at 25 cents a quarter peck, 45 cents a half, $1.25 a half bushel. At least one market attendant anticipates having some early apples from this season's crop available next week, "or the week after."

A few old potatoes were available at 20 and 25 cents a quarter peck and 40 cents a half peck. It was indicated that it will probably be at least two weeks before new potatoes appear on the mart. One attendant, who normally has the first new potatoes on the stands, said this morning that his crop does not seem to be developing as fast as he normally would anticipate considering the early plantings he made.

Garden peas sold for 20 cents a were available at 30 cents a quart, quart in the pods and sugar peas. The majority of the peas were secured by early customers of the market, or persons who had ordered last week for delivery this week.

Other Prices

Among floral offerings this morning were madonna lilies at 10 cents a spike and snap dragons at 25 cents a bunch. Radishes were 10 cents a bunch; onions, 10 cents; spinach 15 cents a quarter peck and 25 cents a half peck; lettuce 10 and 15 cents a box; rhubarb, 10 and 15 cents a box; turnips 15 cents a quart box and 25 cents for two boxes. Apple butter was on sale at 50 cents a jar; potato salad was 25 cents a pint. Apple snitz were available at 30 cents a box. Eggs were 45 to 50 cents a dozen. Dressed chickens sold at 50 and 55 cents a pound.

Today's Talk

EXPECT THE BSET
If we would keep filling our minds with the picture of happy things ahead, many of the worries and anxieties, and perhaps ill health, would naturally melt away. We always get pleasantly excited when we plan a trip. Why not when we plan a new day — or for days far ahead?

If we lived in the atmosphere of expectancy, so many of our petty problems would be no problems at all! Always, expect the best. Then if you have to hurdle a few tough problems, you will have generated the strength and courage to do so. Successful businesses are forever planning and dreaming ahead. And so should we, as individuals.

Dickens's character Micawber was always looking for good fortune to "turn up," but people who are alive and hopeful turn things up without waiting for someone to turn up good fortune for them. After all, most people are looking after themselves and are, as a rule, not interested in other people. Most people are individualists, looking after themselves!

I know people who are forever worrying about everything. Most of this is futile. They keep their entire nervous system in a state of confusion. I have often thought that many people rather love to be miserable! Most people, however, like to meet with good fortune all along the way, and to them I would offer encouragement and say to them to look forward. Expect the best and you can be sure that the mental habit of expectancy will inspire you.

Expect to discover the best in people and they will do the same for you. We must be constructive in our thoughts and our attitude toward life. Always expect the best. "When we face the light, the shadows fall behind!"

APPROPRIATION BILLS STALLED BY DEMOCRATS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Democrats set their sights today on restoration of 18 million dollars in budget funds as a condition for their support of 93 million dollars in special appropriations.

Republicans ignored the Democratic target and pushed for final adjournment of the 1957 Legislature next Tuesday.

Sen. William J. Lane (D-Wash.) said "this is no bluff" in disclosing his party's target in the new impasse on appropriations.

GOP On Spot

"The Republicans know it takes a two-thirds vote to pass these special appropriations," he told a newsman. "And they should know that we're not going to supply the necessary votes until they came through with 24 million dollars."

Republicans control the Senate 27-25 but the special appropriations—most of them for state-aided universities, schools and hospitals—require a two-thirds majority for passage.

House Republicans originally set out to cut Gov. Leader's $1,559,000,000 budget by 94½ million dollars. Added funds along the line have reduced that figure to about 88 millions.

Would Compromise

Lane said Democrats would be willing to accept a compromise at 70 millions, particularly if the funds were restored in the fields of coal research, mental health, public health and industrial development.

Sen. Henry J. Probert (R-Mont.) said Democrats had agreed to support the special appropriations if two million dollars were allocated for mental health beds at Philadelphia General Hospital.

"Now they're back again asking for more," he told a newsman. "I don't think they're going to get it."

Probert Figures

Probert said he was preparing figures showing that the 94½ million dollars in cuts once imposed by House Republicans were now down to 82½ millions.

House Democrats sent the special appropriations to the Senate on Tuesday after the Philadelphia General Hospital was listed for two million dollars. Lane maintained the agreement did not extend to Senate Democrats.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, GOP floor leader, said the final gavel for adjournment would likely fall between noon and 6 p. m. on Tuesday to end a session that began New Year's Day.

Hope To Adjourn

"I expect some sort of compromise will be worked out on appropriations so that we will be in a position to adjourn on the 18th," he said.

The Republican Senate bucked a Democratic wall late Thursday in seeking to push the special appropriation bills.

Democrats refused to supply enough votes for the necessary two-thirds majority on a test vote on an $82,500 appropriation for the Orlando S. Johnson Industrial School at Scranton.

2 Allies Complained

Twice he has flown back and forth across the Atlantic, coming here to talk over with the State Department and coming back to talk some more.

American allies — particularly propositions so that we will be in a position to adjourn on the 18th," he said.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—In this town you can get your throat cut so neatly you never know it happened till you shake your head—or someone shakes it for you.

Harold Stassen has just been made to look like an errand boy who can't be let out alone without a guardian, although his job is to try to work out a disarmament agreement with the Allies and Russia.

It might seem a man given this gigantic assignment could be trusted to handle himself with the best. But Thursday it was learned the State Department is putting a top-level diplomat with him to give him on-the-spot guidance.

Worked Under Ike

For a long time Stassen had worked directly under Eisenhower as his aide on disarmament. This was the closest that Stassen—who three times sought the Republican presidential nomination ever got to the presidency.

But for the past few months he has been working under the State Department, which means under Secretary of State Dulles.

Suddenly this week Washington developed enough leaks to sink perhaps even a harder ship than Stassen who, no matter how hard he is rebuffed, always manages to look like a man saying: "Ain't things getting dandy?"

The leaks — some apparently came out of the State Department although that isn't necessarily where they started—reported that Dulles had reprimanded Stassen for the way he handled himself in Europe.

2 Allies Complained

Twice he has flown back and forth across the Atlantic, coming here to talk over with the State Department and coming back to talk some more.

American allies — particularly propositions so that we will be in a position to adjourn on the 18th," he said.

The Republican Senate bucked a Democratic wall late Thursday in seeking to push the special appropriation bills.

Democrats refused to supply enough votes for the necessary two-thirds majority on a test vote on an $82,500 appropriation for the Orlando S. Johnson Industrial School at Scranton.

Big Klu's Bat Helps Redlegs Defeat Giants 5-4 As Braves Drop Phils To Fourth Place

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Ted Kluszewski has come back swinging for Cincinnati in that crazy, mixed up National League pennant race where the Redlegs have lost nine of their last 13 games but have fallen only a half-game out of first place.

Big Klu, making his second starting appearance since quitting the disabled list Wednesday, had four hits, one a two-run homer, and scored three runs last night as the Redlegs defeated the New York Giants 5-4 and junked their losing streak at four games.

The Redlegs reclaimed second place behind the Milwaukee Braves, who skidded Philadelphia to fourth, 1½ games back, with a 10-2 victory on Warren Spahn's three-hit pitching. Brooklyn took over third, one game away, as Junior Gilliam stole home with two out in the 10th inning to beat St. Louis 2-1 and put the fifth place Cardinals 2½ games off the pace.

Cubs Belt Pirates
The Pittsburgh Pirates, riding a five-game winning streak, were belted 11-5 by Chicago's last place Cubs.

In the American League everything remained the same. The Chicago White Sox made it nine in a row over Washington, 10-4, to retain a four-game edge over the second-place New York Yankees, who thumped Kansas City 10-1. Detroit remained in third, beating Boston 5-4, and Cleveland stayed in fourth with a 7-2 decision over Baltimore.

Kluszewski belted two singles and a double in addition to his first home run of the year. Joe Nuxhall won his second, but needed Buster Freeman's relief help when the Giants, held to two hits for seven innings, scored three runs in the eighth. Willie Mays' 12th homer brought in two runs in the rally.

Hank Aaron drove in four runs for the Braves, three with his 18th home run. Two singles and an error made one Phil run unearned. The third hit off Spahn, now 7-3, was Rip Repulski's ninth, in the home run.

Two walks and a single loaded the bases for the Dodgers in the 10th, and when bonus kid Lindy McDaniel went into his windup with a 1-0 count on Roy Campanella, Gilliam let fly. Don Newcombe won it, on his 31st birthday — for his fifth victory.

The Cubs swung for 17 hits against Ron Kline, who lost his ninth, and four relievers. Ernie Banks drove in four runs, two with his eighth homer, as Dick Drott won his fifth.

Chuck Stobbs Lose 11th
Dick Donovan had the Senators in hand until the ninth, when Jim Lemon and Bob Usher homered to bring on reliever Bob Keegan — who then gave up a homer to Eddie Veto before getting the final out. Winless Chuck Stobbs lost his 11th.

Tom Sturdivant won his fifth for the Yankees, giving up five of the A's eight hits to Vic Power and Bob Cerv. Five runs in the fifth put it away for the Yankees, with Mickey Mantle's 19th homer adding two more in the eighth.

Boston ripped Duke Maas for three runs in the first inning, but the right-hander then put the Tigers into the lead with a two-run homer in the fifth. Harvey Kuenn's seventh-inning homer was the clincher, giving Maas a 7-3 record.

Bobby Avila's three-run homer in the seventh nailed Mike Garcia's second victory and first complete game in 12 starts. Dick Williams, traded to the Indians by the Orioles for Jim Busby earlier in the day, had three hits, one a home run. Busby was 0-for-5.

Need More Teams For Cage League

A meeting was held Friday evening at the Recreation Park to lay plans for a Senior Recreation Basketball League and three teams entered.

Additional teams are needed and another meeting will be held Monday evening at the park which all interested are invited to attend. Games will be played under the lights at the Rec. Park.

Represented at the meeting were Hess Antiques, Tommy Hess, coach; Gunners, Earl Little, coach; and Dons, John Carter, coach.

Cities Service edged the American Legion 3-2 in a Big-Little League game Friday evening to tie the Elks for second place.

Gary Maitland potted a homerun for the Legion in the top of the second inning but the Cities Service retaliated with two runs in the last half via a homerun by Ronnie Aspers, a stolen base by Dorr after his life on an error, and a single by Rudisill.

A pair of errors, walk and single by Little enabled the Legion to knot the score in the third.

In the last of the fifth, walks to Rudisill and Nichols and an interference play on Gastley loaded the bases for the Cities Service. A walk to Aspers forced over Rudisill with what was to prove the winning run.

YVON DURELLE AND ANTHONY END IN DRAW

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT — Three different matchups were mentioned in the wake of the startling 10-round draw between unknown Yvon Durrelle and top-ranked Tony Anthony, but the one with the slimmest chance of coming off was the one pitting Anthony against light heavyweight champion Archie Moore.

Anthony and his manager, Ernie Braca, said before last night's nationally televised slugfest that the 27-year-old New Yorker needed an "impressive" win over the muscular French-Canadian to assure a title fight with the elusive Archie.

It was the consensus that Anthony, the No. 1 contender who retreated and counterpunched all the way, was fortunate to get out with a draw. Though he was credited with a sixth-round knockdown that Durrelle's handlers said came from a low punch, Anthony could not flick off all the looping swings that the 27-year-old Durrelle brought up from his half-crouch.

Talk Of Rematch
There was talk of a rematch. Another possibility is that Detroit's Chuck Spieser, who lost to Anthony two months ago, would be matched against Durrelle.

Durrelle weighed 176½ to Anthony's 174½. Durrelle had Anthony groggy in the second and tenth rounds from a series of looping head shots.

It was scored this way: Referee Lou Handier, 41-41; Judge Barney Plotnik, 43-39 for Anthony, and Judge Malcolm House, 40-39 for Durrelle. The AP had it 46-45 for Durrelle.

BANTAM TITLE ON LINE TONIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO — Mexico City's clever Raul Macias, the NBA world bantamweight boxing champion, tests his craftsmanship tonight against the challenge of slugging Dommy Ursua of the Philippines.

The 15-round Cow Palace bout, with Macias' title at stake, starts at 9 p.m. with no telecast or broadcast.

Odds still favor the 22-year-old former office boy who won the NBA crown two years ago, but while they opened at about 3-1, by last night about 8-5 was being quoted.

The Filipino is ranked the No. 5 bantamweight challenger by the NBA while Ring Magazine has him ranked No. 2 in the flyweight division. Dommy can make the 112-pound fly-weight limit, but will go about 116 for tonight's scrap. Macias, is expected at the 118-pound bantam weight limit with a six-inch height advantage.

Eastern League
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cliff Ross, Syracuse lefthander, pitched a one-hitter against Albany last night and struck out 11. He also walked 11.

Those walks plus a couple of incidents that followed his ninth-inning exit gave Albany a 3-2 victory and made Ross' Eastern League season record 0-7.

In other games, Springfield edged league-leading Schenectady 8-7 in a three-hour, 50-minute marathon, and second-place Binghamton snapped a three-game losing streak with a 5-1 triumph over Reading.

The only Albany hit off Ross came in the sixth inning and drove in a run.

In the ninth, Ross got one batter out and walked two before taking a walk himself to the showers. Reliever Jack Isaac promptly issued a pass to fill the bases. A sacrifice fly brought in one run. The Senators then attempted a double steal. Syracuse catcher-manager Frank Calo dropped the ball to let the winning run in.

Springfield's third pitcher of the night won a 12-inning game in the Massachusetts city as he brought in the winning run with a sacrifice fly.

Jim Bronstad, like his team a victim of three consecutive setbacks, returned to the victory column as Binghamton cut Schenectady's lead to a half game. Bronstad gave up seven hits but was in trouble in every inning except the fourth and ninth. He stranded 11 runners.

The Red Legs walked the White Sox 16-1 Friday evening at Binghamton as the Upper Adams Pony League started play.

The three-team league plays regularly on Monday and Friday evenings. The White Sox meet the Orioles at Arendtsville Monday evening.

Logan Fined $100 For Fight Thursday

PHILADELPHIA — Johnny Logan, the Milwaukee Braves' shortstop, has been fined $100 for his part in a fight Thursday at Brooklyn with the Dodgers' Don Drysdale who was assessed $40.

The fight developed in a general brawl involving players on both teams. Logan came out of it with a cut over his eye, while Drysdale, the Dodgers' starting pitcher, showed a collection of welts on his chest.

TRIM 'GREENS' BUT AVOID A CREW-CUT LOOK

June and early July are good times for shearing decorative evergreens, but the weekend gardener should avoid some kinds that crew-cut look.

Fine growing ones often take severe cutbacks, although overzealous use of pruning shears may invite withering sun scald. With coarse-growing evergreens like pine, spruce and fir, the haircuts should be adroit and conservative, if needed at all. This means trimming only about half to two-thirds current growth.

The lush, lacelike foliage of yews, arborvitae, falsecypress, junipers and hemlocks can more easily be shaped to desire form and size. That's because new shoots are formed freely from last year's wood and sometimes from two-year-old wood.

Allow To Expand
Even in the case of the finer, indeterminate growing evergreens, sheared plants should be allowed to expand slightly with some new growth from year to year.

All pines, spruces and firs are determinate in growth. Most kinds will respond nicely if they are allowed to develop naturally. Some few exceptions, such as Mugo pine and a few varieties of dwarf spruce,

Do's and Don't's

By ANDREW C. LANG
The Associated Press
FIXING TOILET TANK

DO . . . when water is leaking into the toilet bowl, remove the tank cover and see whether the water level is above the top of the vertical overflow tube.

DO . . . if the water is above this tube, know that the metal or plastic float is probably at fault; in which case, bend the float rod downwards or, when the float has lost its buoyancy, buy a new one.

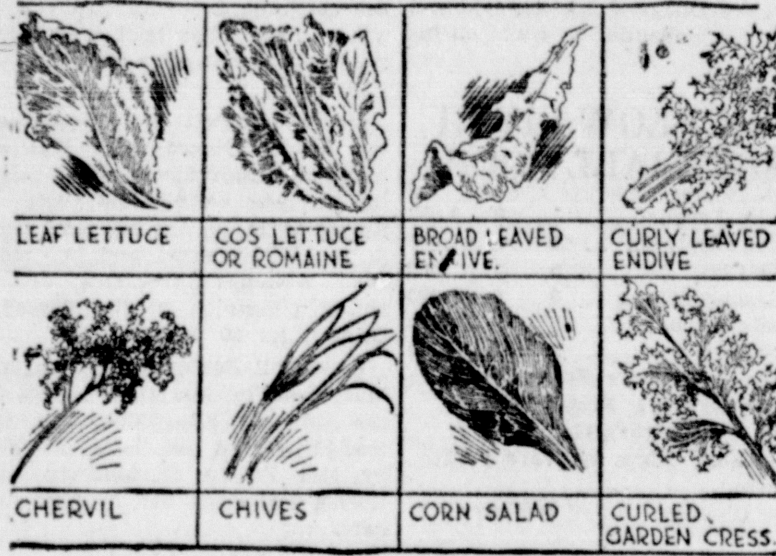

DO . . . if the water is below the overflow tube, know that the leak is occurring at the valve seat at the bottom of the tank; in which case be sure the rubber valve is dropping exactly on the valve seat or buy a new rubber valve if it appears to be in poor condition.

DO . . . consider the possibility of getting one of the newer products that assures a perfect seating of the rubber valve every time. DON'T . . . in bending the float rod, fail to use both hands and be sure to work carefully so the entire tank mechanism will not be thrown out of alignment.

DON'T . . . guess at the size washer needed. Take the old one to the store with you to be certain you get the proper size and type.

will lend more beauty to the home landscape with annual shearings. To preserve the pyramidal shape of Christmas tree types, the general trimming rules for coarse growing evergreens should be observed.

Fresh Salad The Mostest For Painsstaking Hostess

These green leaves will be delicious to your salad bowl.

The fresher the greens, the better the salad — and no salad tastes quite so good as the one grown in your own garden.

Tossed salads are "musts" in most reducing diets and furnish a treasure of vitamins for growing children. Your reputation as a "hostess with the mostest" on the table can be grown in a corner of your backyard vegetable garden. A salad garden can give you months of crisp, flavorful greens which you would never be able to find in markets. A further advantage of a homegrown salad is that the green leaves can be picked, washed, dried and chilled minutes before serving — an important factor, as any gourmet will agree, in extracting the fullest flavor from your salad.

List Of Ingredients

Here is a suggested list of salad ingredients which can be easily grown by the home gardener: Lettuce is the key to your tossed salad. The commercially grown lettuce tends to be the tight, white head which most salad chefs find to be tasteless and difficult to dress. In growing your own, you can enjoy the preferred cos lettuce — known as "romaine" — which is available for growing in several varieties.

Loose heading varieties — such as Bibb or limestone — also is a favorite with salad fanciers. This type of lettuce can be grown in the early spring and fall, but tends to go to seed in hot weather.

Leaf lettuce also is excellent in salads and can be grown for a much longer period than the head types. Leaf lettuce can be used when the leaves measure two inch across. The plants must be thinned out regularly in order to mature.

Endive In Two Types

Endive can be grown in two types — broad and curly leaved. Both hold up under frost or hot weather and have a distinctive flavor which is an asset to a salad. Since frost improves this flavor, a late sowing is recommended so that the plants will reach maturity in the fall.

On the subject of unusual flavor, corn salad is fresh and spicy and is grown easily in spring and fall. Curled garden cress also has a strong flavor and thrives with ordinary, routine garden culture. Watercress is easily grown in areas which have a ready supply of fresh water. Constant moisture is essential to the fullest development of watercress.

Aromatic Plant

Cervil is an aromatic plant resembling parsley. However, there the similarity stops. The flavor of cervil is far superior and makes it a highly prized item in the salad bowl. It also can be used as a garnishment for meats. Like parsley, the seed is slow to germinate. Sow it with a few radish seeds to mark the rows.

One of the most useful salad vegetables in chives. A cousin of the onion, it leaves have a delicate onion flavor, just sufficiently strong to give the faintest seasoning to a salad. Chives grow easily from seed and a plant survives many years. Its flower is an attractive lavender and can do double duty as decoration along a garden walk.

The Weeders' Guide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y. (P) — From now on we are in the period of gardening when beginners understand what the veterans meant when they said not to bite off more than they could chew. The two months ahead are from a standpoint of work to be done, the dullest of the gardening year although it is the time when one should enjoy the bloom and the flowers.

Every how-to-garden book worth the purchase price somewhere contains the warning about not digging up more garden space than you can handle without making a slave of yourself. I suspect that almost no gardener, tilling his own soil for the first time, ever pays any attention to the admonition. My opinion on this subject is based on the fact that every first-year home owner I know starts out with a complete truck garden: including corn, zucchini and melons. By their fourth year, they usually simmer down to a dozen tomato vines, lettuce and radishes.

More To Hoe

Obviously, the more garden beds and vegetable plots you dig and plant, the more rows there are to be hoed. And when this time of the year rolls around, the footage which seemed so inadequate in the spring suddenly becomes acres under the hot sun. And when a dry spell comes, those required hoeings are never-ending jobs which will make the quarterly water bill the size of your income tax.

There are, even for those of us who have found just about the right sized garden for our tastes, a number of short-cuts and step-savers. First, there are ways to make the job of mowing the lawn a lot easier. Arrange the plantings so that the lawn consists of open spaces, uncluttered by a tree here, a bush there, a little flower bed in the middle which must be mowed.

As many as four sowings of salad vegetables can be made with good results and there should be at least two, as a very minimum — one in spring and one in midsummer for the fall crop.

Group Trees, Shrubs

The trick is to put trees and shrubs in groupings or in a screen and to avoid those fussy individual plantings which make more work. Anyway from today's viewpoint, they aren't considered the best use of larger materials.

Banks are hard to mow: they can be remodeled into level spots with a dry wall or retaining wall taking the place of a slope. Or they can be planted with material like pachysandra—which needs little attention once established—or with sweet-smelling herbs, like lemon thyme which eliminates the use of a mower.

A Few Step-savers

Step-savers include a basket in which all the necessary tools may be carried; a garden cart or rubber-wheeled barrow in which tools, peatmoss, fertilizer and soil conditioners may be hauled around. Sharp tools in good cutting condition may not save steps, but they sure do save your back. A handy garden device is a short apron with three or four roomy pockets I find that I wind up a gardening day much less fatigued if I map out three or four different jobs, and change frequently from one to another: like transplanting, pruning a shrub or two, fertilizing or top-dressing a smallish section of perennial border, and clipping dying flower heads from one or two areas in the garden. Any change of chore rests tired muscles.

FARM CALENDAR

Summer Care Needed — Dairy heifers should be kept growing at all times, reminds Harvey Shaffer, Penn State extension dairy specialist. Even on lush June pastures they will need some hay. When pasture quality declines, hay feeding will become more necessary, Shaffer points out.

Livestock Need Shade — If natural shade is not available in cattle, hog, and sheep pastures, artificial shades can be built, says Thomas King, Penn State extension livestock specialist. Drive four poles into the ground in a square or rectangular pattern, place light poles for a roof, and cover with straw or corn stover.

Be Ready To Fight Fire — You, too, might have a fire, warns Ralph Patterson, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. Place extinguishers of adequate size and proper type conveniently in all fire danger areas—the home, the barn, machine shed, and around storage tanks of gasoline and kerosene.

Repel Rabbits — Effective chemical repellents are available for protecting home gardens from damage by cottontail rabbits, according to Robert Wingard, Penn State extension wildlife management specialist. Use according to directions.

Stop Swarming — Most swarm-

SAYS GRAHAM HURTS TAVERNS

NEW YORK (P)—Saloons around Madison Square Garden are having a slack season. Whatever Billy Graham is reviving, it's not the tavern trade.

"He's killing it," said bartender Joseph Crotty, jerking his thumb toward the arena where Graham is preaching nightly. "Things are dead. It's the same all up and down the avenue."

Before and after the evangelist's meetings, the streets swarm thick with crowds, but behind the neon-lit plate glass of the bars, stools go empty.

Graham preached to 17,000 people last night.

At the end of the sermon, 441 people came forward, raising to 17,670 the total "decisions for Christ" during the crusade.

The city's Protestant Church Council said yesterday most of them were joining city churches already.

Poached fish may be served cold during warm weather; it's delicious with Hollandaise sauce.

ing of bees can be prevented by good bee management, says William Clarke, Penn State extension apiculturist. Provide plenty of space for brood rearing and storage of honey, along with a good young queen.

Preventable?... Yes, with KARATHANE WD

Here you see how powdery mildew spreads during the summer when conidial spores are carried from infected terminals to other foliage. This secondary mildew, as well as the infection of new terminal buds, can be prevented by using KARATHANE WD in cover sprays. In orchards with a history of powdery mildew, spray KARATHANE WD until new terminal growth is completed . . . and then start spraying next year when buds break. Other orchards should be sprayed at the first sign of powdery mildew to prevent its build-up. When applied as recommended, KARATHANE WD will not harm fruit or foliage.

KARATHANE, RHOTANE and TRITON are trade-marks, Reg. U.S. Pat. Off. and in principal foreign countries.

REMINDER—Since mildew surfaces are hard to wet, add TRITON B-1956 spreader-sticker to KARATHANE sprays.

County Agent Recommends Sudan Grass As Quick Way To Ensure Summer Pasture

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Hot July and August weather often turns bluegrass pastures into mere exercise lots, but there's still time to do something about a possible lack of summer pasture.

Sudan grass is the answer. It's a vigorous, dependable pasture for midsummer months, and during good growing weather it can produce pasture 18 to 24 inches tall in six or seven weeks. On productive soil an acre of Sudan grass will provide plenty of pasture for three cows. In ideal weather Sudan will provide pasture for four mature animals, keep them in good flesh and milk production. It will produce pasture until frost.

Sudan grass can be planted anytime later than a week after normal corn planting time, when the soil is warm. Use "Piper" variety, planting the 45 lbs. of seed recommended per acre can be seeded from the wheat hopper of the grain drill, set at the 4 peck rate.

One of the best methods to plant Sudan is to drill the fertilizer on first, cultipack the field until the seedbed is firm, and then drill and cultipack again. Don't graze the Sudan until it is at least 18 inches tall.

Sanitizing Equipment
Every good dairyman sanitizes his dairy equipment immediately before using it. In fact, every good dairyman believes there is nothing gained in sanitizing right after the equipment is washed. If the dairy equipment is clean, it does not need to be sanitized until just before using.

Sanitizing materials used extensively on our Pennsylvania farms include the chlorines, quaternary ammonium compounds, and iodophors. Your best bet is to use the kind of sanitizing compound which is most suitable to the kind of water available on your farm.

It's well to remember that such compounds are corrosive, and do harm to rubber and metal. That's why it's best to use them only immediately before milking.

By all means, follow the manufacturer's directions. Using more than the recommended amount would be wasteful, cost you more money, and would cause more corrosion. Then, after you use the sanitizing agents, don't rinse off your equipment. Just drain thoroughly and use.

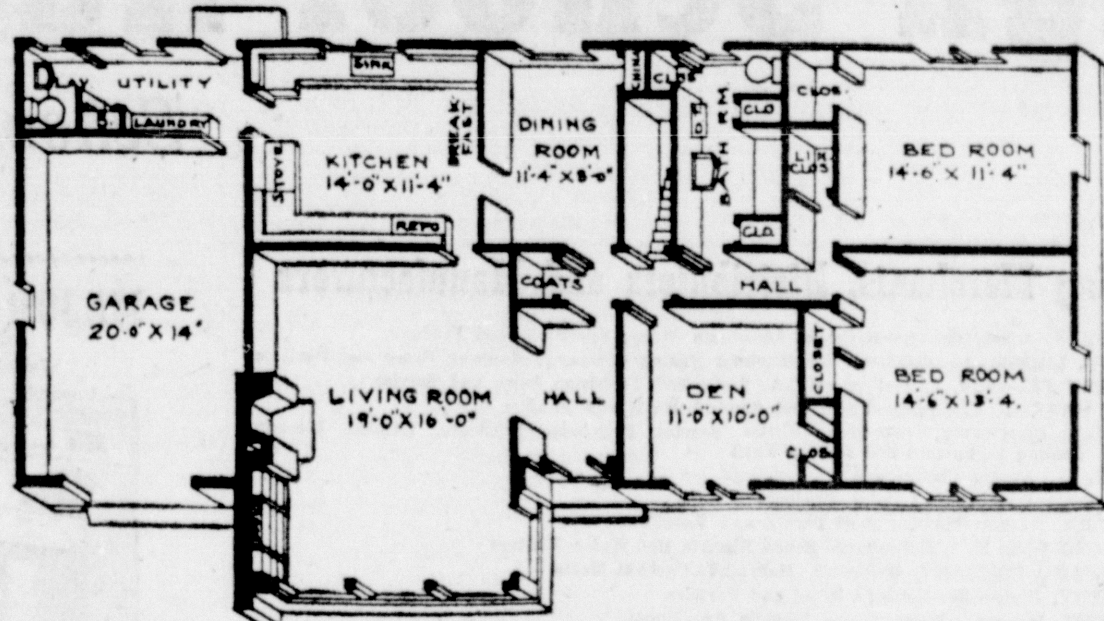

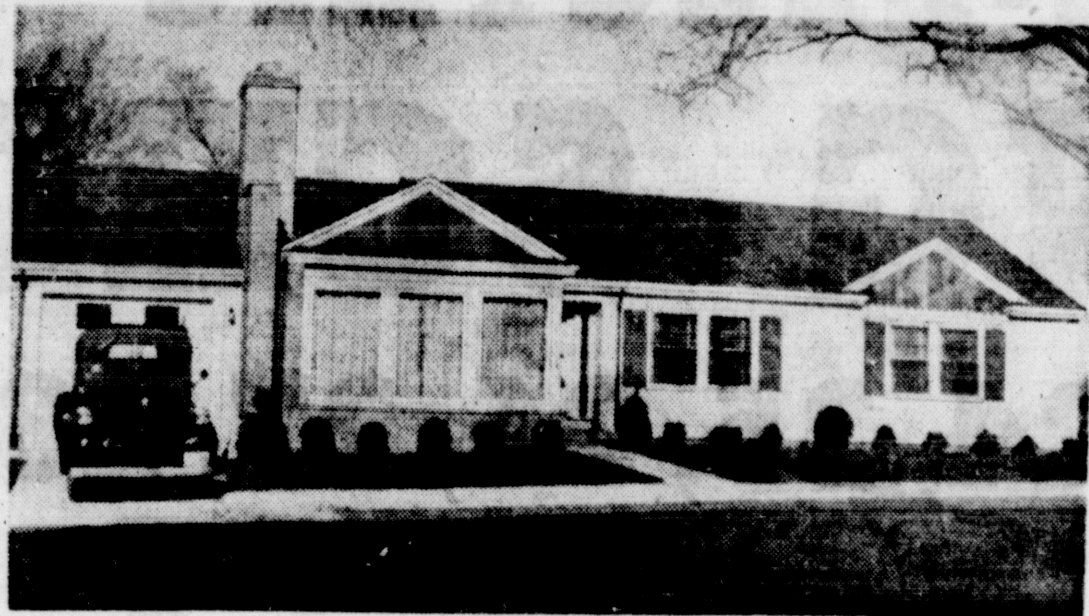

Finally, don't use the sanitizing solution to wash your cow's udder. This material is too harsh, and would cause chapping and cracking of your hands and the cow's udder tissues.

Main point to remember... sanitizing agents are used only to kill off unwanted bacteria that came into contact with your dairy equipment after it was properly washed. So, use these agents just before you put your milking equipment into use.

Supplement Feeds
If you'd like a nice, heavy beef calf at weaning time, you'll want to make sure he gets plenty of milk from his mother. Most cows give ample milk for the first month or two after calving... but if pasture becomes scant, they soon drop off in milk production. It's impossible for her to give the calf enough milk unless she received plenty of roughage.

Most bluegrass pastures become dormant when the soil temperature goes above eight degrees, and even improved pastures will slow down if water isn't available. When this happens, your best bet is to provide some extra hay or silage for your beef cows. Having a hay rack or silage bunk in the field is mighty good insurance. Matter of fact, a small amount of hay or silage fed to your larger calves at weaning time will pay dividends.

"The Aleport," Well Planned Ranch House

Rooms Six and Half
Bedrooms Three
Closets Seven
Cubage:
House 28,000 Ft.
Garage 4,900 Ft.
Main House Dimensions 52 x 26
Overall 66'

Called "The Aleport," today's Home of the Week is a typical ranch style house that is carefully planned for modern living.

The house proper measures 52 by 26 feet. Including the attached garage and utility room, measurements are 66 by 26 feet. Cubage of the house is 28,000 feet; cubage of the garage is 4,900. To build this house and attached garage you'll need at least a 90-foot lot.

Combination Finish
Just about any style of exterior finish can be used for a house of this style. In the accompanying illustration a combination finish was used with very attractive results. Multicolored roofing also is suggested.

The front door opens on an entry hall that connects directly with the living room and also with a central hallway leading to all of the other rooms in the house. Thus, easy access to all rooms is an important and sure-to-be-appreciated feature of this house.

Third Bedroom
Two bedrooms are located in the right wing of the house. Should you need a third bedroom you'll find that the den will very conveniently serve this purpose. There is excellent lighting and ventilation in all of these rooms—as well as ample storage facilities.

Spacious and pleasant, the living room is unusually well lighted by the three large windows that make up the front wall of the room and the single large window in the right wall. A fireplace is suggested for this room—so are built-in bookshelves. The long expanse of unbroken wall space will make the arrangement of large furniture pieces very easy.

Breakfast Nook
Opening right off the kitchen, the dining room is a cozy and cheerful room. In the all modern kitchen, the cabinets, work counters and appliances are all within easy reach. A breakfast nook is included in the kitchen layout.

JUNGLE CHIEF IN CROWD THAT HEARS GRAHAM

By GEORGE CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—A befeathered jungle chief who used to hunt heads in the wilds of Peru listened to Billy Graham preach, then nodded his head vigorously. "Great teacher," he said in his deep bass. "Much authority."

Chief Tariri, head of the Shapra tribe in the north-central Peruvian jungles, was among 16,000 listeners to Graham last night at Madison Square Garden.

Tribe Was Praying

"I wish my tribe could see it," he said in his native Candoshi

In the utility room there is plenty of space for your laundry equipment. A back door provides easy access to the back yard from the utility room; two windows provide good light as well as necessary ventilation.

longue, referring to the hundreds who streamed down the aisle at the end of the service to "accept Christ."

The chief added: "I wish everyone would receive the Lord. That's what he did four years ago, and ordered his tribe to quit head hunting."

The chief was brought here by a television program, and because his tribe had been praying for Graham's New York crusade, he wanted to take in the services himself to report back how it was doing.

"Learning God's Word"
"Many warriors learning God's word here," he said. "Women, too. But they talk too much."

Graham, in his sermon asked, "What is a Christian?" Being reared in a Christian country, or by Christian parents, or being born in a Christian home doesn't make you a Christian, he said. "You don't inherit Christianity... I can be born in a garage but that doesn't make me an automobile."

509 Decisions
Going to church, or conforming to external forms, or being virtuous, he said, still doesn't make you a Christian — because no matter how good you are you still fall short of God's standards. To be a Christian he added, you must have a "spiritual rebirth."

Best thing about portable irrigation is that you get water where and when you want it. Hilly terrain is no problem. Sandy soil that sucks water out of ordinary irrigation ditches is no problem.

Portable irrigation is as precise as watering each plant by hand.

What does this freedom from dry spells and troublesome terrain cost? A lot less than you think. We know farmers, right in this county, who have paid for their systems in two years—three years. They did it with better crops. By getting to market first. By being independent of drought.

Call us or stop in today and let us show you how to engineer a portable irrigation system to your farm. We carry complete systems, parts and the very finest Alcoa Aluminum Pipe.

In Memoriam

CAREY: In loving memory of my dear father, Charles C. Carey, who passed away one year ago to-morrow, June 16, 1956.
God saw the road was getting rough. The hills were hard to climb.
He gently closed his loving eyes. And whispered: "Peace be thine."
His weary hours, his days of pain, His weary nights are past;
His ever patient, worn-out frame Has found sweet rest at last.
Loving daughter,
IDA

BILL REQUIRES PUBLIC RECORDS BE MAINTAINED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader received today a bill to require that public records be maintained by most government agencies at the state and local level.

The proposal, supported by Pennsylvania newspaper organizations, gained senate approval 48-1 yesterday. Sen. Hugh J. McMennamin (D-Lackawanna) cast the dissenting vote.

The Legislature, the Parole Board, the Joint State Government Commission, the Pardons Board and the Public Utility Commission would be excluded from the bill's provisions.

Affected would be all state and municipal authorities, state boards and commissions in the executive branch, the turnpike commission, and agencies in political subdivisions.

Set a minimum annual salary of $4,500 for experienced firemen in third class cities (42-7, to House).

Also burned was her sister-in-law, Miss Susan Schlesman, 22, also of Trooper.

Two young brothers-in-law, Edward Schlesman, 15, and his brother, John, 12, were pulled from the blazing car unhurt.

Police said the six young people were returning home after attending Thursday night's baseball game at Connie Mack Stadium between the Philadelphia Phillies and the St. Louis Cardinals. They had remained late at the ball park to collect autographs of some of the players.

Three women in the second car escaped serious injury. Police said the auto was operated by Mrs. Nora Bailey, 51, Philadelphia.
